FINDINGS OF FACT

1. Petitioner (CARES # [REDACTED]) is a resident of Rock County.
2. The agency issued a tax intercept notice to petitioner on 2/13/15 to [REDACTED] in [REDACTED], WI. This was the correct mailing address at that time for petitioner.
3. Petitioner filed a request for hearing on 2/19/16.

DISCUSSION

Wis. Stat. § 49.85, provides that the Department shall, at least annually, certify to the Department of Revenue amounts that it has determined that it may recover resulting from overpayments of public assistance, including Food Stamps (FS). See also, Wis. Stat. § 49.125; Wis. Stat. § 49.195(3); and, 7 U.S.C. § 2022.

The Department of Workforce Development must notify the person that it intends to certify the overpayment to the Wisconsin Department of Revenue for setoff from his/her state income tax refund, and must inform the person that s/he may appeal the decision by requesting a hearing. Wis. Stat. § 49.85 (4).

Wis. Stat. § 49.85(3)(b) provides that the DWD must give the person whose tax refund is to be intercepted at least 30 days written notice of the impending intercept by sending the required certification notice to his or her last known address. Wis. Stat. § 49.85(3)(b)(2) also requires that the notice issued inform the person subject to the intercept that he or she has 30 days from the date of the notice to appeal the certification action. Wis. Stat. § 49.85(4)(b), provides for an appeal contesting the certification under Wis. Stat. § 227.44.

The hearing right is described in Wis. Stat. § 49.85(4)(b) as follows:

If a person has requested a hearing under this subsection, the department of workforce development shall hold a contested case hearing under s.227.44, except that the department of workforce development may limit the scope of the hearing to exclude issues that were presented at a prior hearing or that could have been presented at a prior opportunity for hearing.

Wis. Stat. § 49.85(4)(b).

In this case, the Department mailed a state income tax refund intercept notice to the petitioner concerning the FS overissuance claims in February 2013, to his at her last known address of record with the Department. Indeed, during the hearing, petitioner conceded that in February 2015 this was his correct address as he was a long-distance truck driver and was often away from town for extended periods. Petitioner testified that she does not believe that he received this and speculates that it was sent back to the Department after his failure to pick up his mail for some extended period.

The state income tax refund intercept statute requires mailing of the state income tax refund interception notification to the last known-address of the former benefits recipient, and no more. The testimony of the county agency representative is that the address used was the last-known address on record at the time of the interception notification. The petitioner's appeal was filed more than a year after the State issued the notice.

DHA has a long-standing policy with regard to the filing of an appeal that the pertinent time limit for filing the appeal is tolled where the county agency or the Department cannot demonstrate that a notice of the negative action taken was mailed to the correct address, and the petitioner has not received it. Where it is demonstrated by the evidence that the notice was correctly mailed, this fact creates a rebuttable presumption of delivery that a petitioner must overcome with evidence demonstrating that the notice was not actually received.

This interpretation is confirmed by Wisconsin caselaw.

It is well established that the mailing of a letter creates a presumption that the letter was delivered and received. See, Nack v. State, 189 Wis. 633, 636, 208 N.W. 487(1926), (citing Wigmore, Evidence)2d. ed.) § 2153; 1 Wigmore, Evidence (2nd ed.) § 95) Mullen

v. Braatz, 179 Wis. 2d 749, 753, 508 N.W.2d 446(Ct.App.1993); Solberg v. Sec. Of Dept of Health & Human Services, 583 F.Supp. 1095, 1097 (E.D.Wis.1984); Hagner v. United States, 285 U.S. 427, 430, 52. S.Ct. 417, 418(1932).

(Portions of discussion not relevant here omitted).

This evidence raises a rebuttable presumption which merely shifts to the challenging party the burden of presenting credible evidence of non-receipt. United States v. Freeman, 402 F.Supp. 1080, 1082(E.D.Wis.1975). Such a presumption may not, however, be given conclusive effect without violating the due process clause. United States v. Bowen, 414 F.2nd 1268, 1273(3d.Cir.1969); Mullen v. Braatz, 179 Wis. 2d at 453. If the defendant denies receipt of the mailing, the presumption is spent and a question of fact is raised. (Examiner note: Citations omitted here.) The issue is then one of credibility for the factfinder. The factfinder may believe the denial of receipt, or the factfinder may disbelieve the denial of receipt.

State ex. Rel. Flores v. State, 183 Wis.2d 587, at 612-3 ((1994). The problem here appears to be that petitioner's truck driving had him out of the state for extended periods. Furthermore, he had possibly unreliable mail arrangements and did not have another person assigned to manage his financial and administrative affairs in his absence. This is not the fault of the agency and such a situation does not absolve him of legal liability that is assigned by federal rules and state law. This appeal is untimely as the request for hearing was received more than a year after the tax intercept notice.

CONCLUSIONS OF LAW

The appeal is untimely and petitioner failed to rebut the presumption of delivery and receipt of the tax intercept notice, and his appeal was filed more than a year after the notice.

THEREFORE, it is ORDERED

That this matter is dismissed.
